Fusion Cell is a premier staffing firm that can help you acquire the best talent. Our staffing experts have decades of experience bringing talent to top companies, from startups to Fortune 500 organizations. Our team of talent advisors works on an intimate level with each business, immersing ourselves in your organization to understand your specific functional and cultural needs and tailor our efforts to meet your needs with vetted, highly-qualified candidates. Fusion Cell helps organizations in all industries, including high tech, financial services, professional/business services, retail, healthcare, education, government, and defense.

An Elite, Experienced Talent Pool from the U.S. Military

Fusion Cell focuses on helping U.S. Military veterans transition to careers in the public sector. This amazing talent pool shares common values, such as work ethic, integrity, attention to detail, grit, teamwork, commitment, and control under pressure. Plus, it brings critical competencies and experience to your business, including:

- Leadership, including motivation to attain goals
- Communication
- Analytical thinking/problem-solving
- Project management

In addition, military veterans bring extensive technical training and experience in over 7,000 different military roles. Fusion Cell uses the military expertise of its staff as well as proprietary tools and procedures to uniquely translate a candidate's skills and experiences to your needs. As a result, you see stronger candidates, find better matches, and increase retention.
